

WE ARE THE FEATHER IN YOUR CAP

Our award winning television team offers you a wide range of creative services – writing, non-linear AVID editing, 3-D animation & modeling. Whether it's using a lipstick camera in a physically small location or the demands of the setting require Steadi-Cam operations, a variety of recording opportunities are available. A full service television studio complete with teleprompter capability provides you the kind of control you need for your production. From video to digital media a variety of product formats are accessible. From concept to completion, we can make your ideas tangible.

All products and services adhere to Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act ensuring accessibility standards are met.

In an age requiring electronic document management solutions, our printing and distribution center operates 24/5 and is ready to assist you. Operating from a variety of application formats, jobs can be submitted easily electronically allowing for high-speed duplications, and the ability to send documents to any destination of your choice. Magazines, training manuals, brochures, pamphlets, folders, newsletters, event programs, posters, divider tabs, annual reports and direct mail pieces are among a few of the specialty services offered.

From traditional to non-traditional methods of artistry, our graphic designers can create the type of custom artwork you desire. Whether you are developing an annual report or require an eye-catching display for a conference, your message is sure to get the attention it deserves. Our team of designers is ready to handle the design and pre-press for any of your publication types including catalogs, training manuals, pamphlets, flyers, posters and banners.

If you need an event or product captured digitally, we have the photographic expertise you need. Using digital acquisition and manipulation through a full digital dry lab, we can capture and manage electronic documents to your specifications. Since our services are not inhibited by geographical restrictions, we can attain aerial photos, air-to-air scenes or detailed product photography for your on-line needs. From proof sheets to enlarged photo displays for conferences, no digital request is too small.
